Re: 10/601,796

Dear Examiner Channavajjala:

Thank you for agreeing to speak with us about this case. In preparation for our telephone interview scheduled for 1:30 p.m. EST tomorrow, we attach for your review these proposed amended claims. These cancel the limitation you previously objected to as not enabled and add new limitations that we believe make the two independent claims patentable over the prior art you have cited. We have also included a brief summary of where the new limitations are supported in the specification and how they distinguish the claims from the prior art.

While we believe that these amendments would place the claims in condition for allowance, we will also be happy to entertain any other limitations that you suggest.

Again, thank you for giving us the opportunity to discuss this informally.

Sincerely,

Sean C. Crandall
